Industrial Radar Applications
Based on proven automotive technology

Radar sensors with integrated controller, embedded in a system, are enabling innovative assistance functions. These automotive functions act as electronic copilots to reach more safety and a higher level of automatization. Those proven features can also be used in industrial and infrastructure applications.

Typical use cases

› Collision avoidance
› Adaptive cruise control
› Surround monitoring
› Object detection
› Distance and speed control
› Proximity detection

Continental Engineering Services GmbH radarsensors@conti-engineering.com www.conti-engineering.com